Health Status of Inmates

Physical Condition

This Kobe prison has the total number of 853 inmates, the accused 645 and the convicted 208, as of December 12, 1946. Five sorts of food are supplied for the accused and, in addition, the adequate side-dishes are given them.

But the presents in food were permitted to be made by the inmates' families in order that the deficiency in calories resulting from shortages of seasoning, protein food and vegetables might be made up.

However, many inmates have been suffering from the under-nourishment, deficiency disease and wasting-disease since their world life. Therefore it naturally follows that the current ration can not keep them in the proper physical condition.

Furthermore, the convicted are supplied with 3 kinds of food classified by their industries, and they, as a rule, are all in good conditions by proper exercises and ^{their} mental rest-feeling.
